radiography

Dr Brendan Fanning

The overall aims of the series are to give an understanding of Radiation Physics, the risks of Ionising Radiation, the principles of Radiation Protection and Quality Assurance in Dental Radiography.

The series also aims to give an understanding of diagnostic problems and interpretation of radiographic images, particularly the Dental Pantomograph. The final aim is to introduce participants to the uses and the Guidelines for use of Cone Beam CT in dental practice.

Outcomes

- By gaining an understanding of Radiation Protection, the participants will be able to optimise the radiation dose to patients.
- The participants will be encouraged to carry out a clinical audit (or re-audit) of their dental radiography. This Quality Assurance programme will result in better x-ray images, fewer retakes and a lower patient dose.
- The participants will be familiarised with recent advances in Dental Radiology.

Delegates can choose to do one or all three of the workshops.
