7.1.3 The selected nominee of the nominating Branch/Group shall then be put before Council of the Union, who will nominate the member selected as President-Elect of the Union.

7.1.4 This nomination of Council is then to be ratified by the AGM or an Extraordinary General Meeting of the Union

7.1.5 The member ratified by this General Meeting is then duly appointed as President-Elect of the Union for the period to the following AGM when s/he will be installed as President.

7.1.6 In certain years, candidates for President-Elect shall be selected from within all of the Branches/Groups of the Union and a President-Elect shall be selected from these candidates by a ballot of the national membership of the Union.

- 7.1.7 At any given national AGM prior notice shall be given to a Branch/Group that it will have the right to select the President-Elect for two years time. The relevant body will then be given not more than six months, or an extension of this time period with the sanction of Council, in which to make a decision on its selection. It must inform the Honorary Secretary of the Union, in writing, within this six month, (or the extended) period following the AGM, of its selection for nominee as President-Elect from the following January. Failure to do so may result in forfeiture, at the discretion of Council, of the right to nominate, by the relevant Branch/Group.
- 7.1.8 When a Branch/Group is selecting a nominee for President-Elect the Committee of this Branch/Group must:

 - (b) afford each member of the Branch/Group an opportunity to propose and second a candidate in writing.
- 7.1.9 Any proposed candidate must have a broad base of experience within the Union. This would require a minimum of three years service at Committee level at the time of selection as a candidate. The name of any proposed candidate will go forward to the Committee of the relevant Branch/Group which will, by a majority vote, select their nomination for President-Elect. This nomination need not necessarily come from within the membership of that specific Branch/Group.
- 7.1.10 In the event of the Branch/Group failing to make a selection within the prescribed time or within any approved extension of this time, Council shall invite all other Branch/Groups listed in the preceding Rules above to select a candidate according to the criteria hereinbefore set out, for Council's consideration.
- (a) If only one such selection is received, this candidate shall be nominated for the position of President-Elect by Council.
 - (b) If more than one selection is received from Branches/Groups hereinbefore listed, a ballot of all the members of the Unions shall be held. The successful candidate in such an election shall then receive the nomination of Council, and shall be ratified by the following AGM.

- (c) In the event of the failure of any Branch/Group to select a candidate, Council shall ask the membership nationally to propose candidates for nomination. Any candidate must satisfy the criteria for selection hereinbefore set out. Any such candidate must be proposed by one member and seconded by six members of the Union. A single candidate selected by this process will be placed before Council for nomination as President-Elect. This nomination will be approved by a majority vote of Council and will then go forward for ratification to the following AGM.
- (d) In the event of such a candidate failing to receive a majority vote of Council, the incumbent President shall remain in office for a further year or until such time as a candidate for President-elect has received approval from Council.
- (e) In the event of more than one candidate being proposed through the method outlined at (c) above, a ballot of all the membership of the Union shall be held. The successful candidate in such an election shall then receive the nomination of Council and be ratified by the following AGM

7.1.11

In the years designated in the rotation hereinbefore set out, all Branch/Group Committees hereinbefore listed will have the right to select a candidate or candidates according to the criteria hereinbefore outlined. Any candidate satisfying these criteria shall receive a nomination from the Branch/Group. Prior to selection of a candidate the Committee of any Branch/Group may be canvassed by other Branch/Group Committees for support of an exceptional candidate.

- (a) If only one such selection is received this candidate shall be nominated for the position of President-Elect by Council.
- (b) If more than one candidate is selected, a postal ballot will be held of all paid-up members of the Union. Such a ballot will be organised through the Honorary Secretary of the Union and the independent agency selected (such as the Auditors or the Solicitors of the Union, or a Notary Public), who shall be responsible for the issuing and counting of ballots. The independent agency shall report the outcome to both the President of the relevant Branch/Group and to the Honorary Secretary of the Union. Such a ballot should be completed within the six month period following an AGM.

- (c) In the event of the failure of any Branch/Group to select a candidate through this method, Council shall ask the membership nationally to propose candidates for nomination. Any such candidate must fulfil the selection criteria hereinbefore set out, and be proposed by one member and seconded by six members of the Union.
- (d) If only one such nomination is received through (c) above, this nominee's name will be placed before Council for nomination as President-Elect. This nomination will be decided upon by a majority vote of Council and will then go forward for ratification to the following AGM.
- (e) In the event of such a candidate failing to receive a majority vote of Council, the incumbent President shall remain in office for a further year or until such time as a candidate for President-elect has received approval from Council.
- (f) If more than one selection is received through (c) above, a ballot of all the membership, as in (b) above, will be held.

7.1.12 It is recommended that the system of rotation of the right of nomination by Branches or Groups hereinbefore set out be re-evaluated by Council at five yearly intervals to take account of changing demographics within the membership of the Union.

7.1.13 In the case of a candidate selected by Branch or Group, where an AGM or Extraordinary General Meeting fails to ratify the nomination of Council as President-Elect, this must be by a two-third majority of those present at the General Meeting and entitled to vote. The matter will then be suspended and referred back to Council. Council shall then consult with the appropriate (nominating / selecting) Branch/Group and request a new selection. Any new candidate thus selected must then be nominated by Council and put before a General Meeting for ratification. This General Meeting shall take place not later than two months from the preceding General Meeting.

7.1.14 In the case of a candidate for President-Elect, elected by the general membership, a General Meeting cannot refuse to ratify the nominated candidate as President-Elect.

7.1.15 It is proposed that in special and / or unforeseen and / or extraordinary circumstances Council itself may nominate a candidate for President-Elect for ratification by a Special General Meeting convened for the purpose. Unforeseen circumstances would include, (but not be limited to):

- * death or sufficient incapacity of an incumbent President-Elect
- * if a President-elect ceases to be a member of the Union
- * if an incumbent President-Elect ceases to be a member of Council.

Council shall determine, for the purposes hereof, what is deemed to be special and/or unforeseen and/or extraordinary circumstances.

7.1.16 Any accidental omission or failure on the part of the Union or any Officer of the Union to comply with any provision of these Rules, in any respect, shall not on that account invalidate any act or deed done.

7.2 The outgoing President shall be the Vice-President from the termination of his / her period of office as President until the next succeeding AGM.

7.3 The Honorary Secretary and the Honorary Treasurer and the Honorary Membership Officer shall be nominated by Council and in accordance with the procedures laid down as follows:

Council shall seek nominations from the general membership in the first instance. In the event of no nominations received, Council will nominate a member to the appointment. The appointment of the Honorary Secretary, the Honorary Treasurer and the Honorary Membership Officer shall be ratified, (or not), by a simple majority vote of the members present and entitled to vote at the AGM or a Special General Meeting. Prior to their appointment as Honorary Officers, the Honorary Secretary Elect and the Honorary Treasurer Elect will serve as assistants to the incumbent Honorary Secretary and Honorary Treasurer respectively, (and shall be known as the Honorary Secretary Elect and the Honorary Treasurer Elect respectively), for a period of one year before taking office, which period of office as Honorary Secretary and Honorary Treasurer respectively shall be for a period of two years. There will not be more than a total of three persons occupying the posts of Honorary Secretary, Honorary Secretary Elect, Honorary Treasurer or Honorary Treasurer Elect serving on Council in any one year.

7.4 The outgoing President and other outgoing Honorary Officers shall retire from their duties of their offices at the termination of their period of office which shall be at such time and place as their successor in office is elected and the incoming Honorary Officers shall thereupon assume office.

7.4.1 The Officers shall not be eligible for re-election as an Honorary Officer until a period of at least one calendar year has elapsed since the termination of their term of office. Council may waive this Clause, subject to a secret ballot of Council members resulting in a three-quarters majority of Council members recommending such action.

7.4.2 All Honorary Officers must be fully paid up members of the Union at the time of their election.

7.4.3 In the event of an Honorary Officer post becoming vacant for any reason the Council shall nominate a person to fill the position in accordance with the procedures laid out in paragraph 7.3 and this nomination shall be ratified by the Executive Committee of Council.
