WELCOME

The IDA's Annual HSE Dental Surgeons Seminar comes to Kilkenny for 2017.

I am indeed honoured to be the HSE Group's President for 2017-2018. I look forward to working for and with you, our members, during the year.

This year's Annual Seminar takes place on Thursday and Friday, October 12 and 13, at Hotel Kilkenny.

The range of topics covered in our programme is of great relevance to those employed within the Public Dental Service, and this, combined with a full trade show and our social event on Thursday evening, should lead to a very informative and enjoyable seminar for all.

While the event traditionally caters for those working in the public system, it is by no means exclusive to HSE dentists. GPs, specialists and all dental professionals are welcome and all are invited.

Once again, thank you to our trade sponsors for their support, which enables us to hold this seminar. A full trade show will take place on Thursday. Our social programme will continue on Thursday evening with a buffet-style dinner, drinks and entertainment. All trade representatives and delegates are welcome.

I look forward to seeing you all in Kilkenny in October.

DR NIALL MURPHY

President Elect
HSE Dental Surgeons Group, IDA

SEMINAR SPEAKERS

Dr Ebrahim Al Awadhi

Ebrahim is a Consultant Orthodontist in the Dublin Dental University Hospital.

Dr Richard Balmer

Richard completed his BDS at Sheffield Dental Hospital, and recently completed his PhD. He is a Consultant and lecturer in paediatric dentistry, and Associate Postgraduate Dental Dean, Child Dental Health, at Leeds Dental Institute. His research interests include enamel defects and child protection. He is co-author of the British Society of Paediatric Dentistry guidelines for dental neglect.

Dr Paddy Crotty

Paddy graduated from Trinity College Dublin and obtained a Fellowship in Restorative Dentistry from the Royal College of Surgeons in Edinburgh. After postgraduate training, he established his practice beside the Mater Hospital on Upper Dorset Street in Dublin, the Dorset Dental Clinic.

Dr Robert Cunney

Robert is a Consultant Microbiologist at Temple Street Children's University Hospital and the Health Protection Surveillance Centre (HPSC) in Dublin. He has been closely involved in the national programmes in Ireland relating to antimicrobial resistance and healthcare-associated infection, including the Strategy for the Control of Antimicrobial Resistance in Ireland (SARI).

Dr Brett Duane

Brett is Associate Professor in Dental Public Health at the Dublin Dental University Hospital. He has worked in primary dental care in England, Australia and New Zealand. His main research interests are inequities in oral health, the oral health of the more vulnerable, and ensuring that the development of oral health services is sustainable.

Dr Kirsten FitzGerald

Kirsten is a Consultant Paediatric Dental Surgeon at Our Lady's Children's Hospital, Crumlin, and the Dublin Dental University Hospital. She qualified from Trinity College Dublin in 2000 and undertook postgraduate training in paediatric dentistry in Dallas, Texas. She is committed to getting early oral healthcare on the agenda in Ireland.

Dr Niamh Galvin

Niamh is a Principal Dental Surgeon and also holds the position of Assistant National Oral Health Lead. Niamh qualified in Cork in 1982 and spent a number of years in general practice before moving to the public service. She holds a first-class Master's in Healthcare Infection Management (TCD) and also holds an FFD(RCS) in community dentistry.

Dr Maura Haran

Maura is Senior Dental Surgeon – Special Needs in the HSE South, based in Waterford. She graduated from University College Cork. She joined the HSE Dental Service in Waterford in 1994 and was appointed Senior Dental Surgeon – Special Needs in 2002. She completed a Master's in Dental Public Health in University College Cork in 1999 and a Diploma in Special Care Dentistry in Dublin Dental University Hospital in 2012.

Dr Eimear Norton

Eimear graduated from Trinity College Dublin in 2004. Following graduation she worked with the HSE in Kilkenny and developed a keen interest in the dental care of children. In 2010 she completed the doctorate programme in paediatric dentistry in Trinity College and earned her fellowship from the Royal College of Surgeons. In 2013 she established the Clonmel Children's Dental Clinic.

Dr Patrick O'Driscoll

Patrick qualified from Cork in 1986. He worked as a general practitioner for a number of years in the UK. He attained his Master's in Endodontics from the Eastman Dental Institute in London in 1997, and a Master's in Medical Science in Endodontics from University College Cork in 2000. Over 19 years ago he set up a practice limited to endodontics in Cork.

Hilda O'Neill

Hilda is a Senior Health Promotion Officer in South Tipperary with a remit for staff health and well-being and mental health promotion. She has 15 years' experience in the area of personal and professional development and training. Hilda is a professional certified coach, accredited with the ICF (International Coaching Federation).

Dr Jane Renehan

Jane is a HSE Principal Dental Surgeon. Following qualification from the Dublin Dental Hospital in 1980, Jane worked exclusively in the public dental sector. In the mid 1990s she returned to the Dublin Dental Hospital as a full-time lecturer in dental public health while studying for her MDS (1997) and MBA (1998). Jane is Past President of the HSE Group, and a member of the IDA's Quality & Patient Safety Committee.

Catherine Waldron

Catherine has worked in the dental field for over 35 years, with qualifications in dental nursing, dental hygiene and teaching. She is a past Director of the Dental Hygiene Programme in Dublin Dental University Hospital. She has completed a master's by research and a Master's in Health Promotion. She is currently studying full-time for a PhD in Special Care Dentistry at the Dublin Dental University Hospital.
