ANNUAL SEMINAR

Thursday and Friday, October 6 and 7, 2016
Sheraton Hotel, Athlone

CPD VERIFIABLE

WELCOME

The IDA's Annual HSE Dental Surgeons Seminar 2016 heads to the midlands and the beautiful town of Athlone on the banks of the Shannon.

It is indeed a great privilege for me to be the Group's President for 2016-17. I look forward to the year ahead and to representing you, the members.

This year's event will take place on Thursday and Friday, October 6 and 7, at the Sheraton Hotel, Athlone.

We see a slight change in the format for 2016 which, I hope, will mean even greater attendance and offer better ways of learning.

Thursday's programme will be similar to previous years, with clinical presentations on various topics such as the periodontal-systemic interface, difficult extractions, an update on the Minamata Convention, trauma and orthodontic referrals. A full trade show will also take place.

Friday then sees a very different format to the proceedings. I am delighted to welcome back Prof. Avi Banerjee to continue the "MI" theme and philosophy of clinical delivery of oral healthcare to our patients. This will be followed by a series of four practical tutorials, with demonstrations to smaller audiences. Every delegate will have the chance to complete all four tutorials over the course of the day: oral radiology; infection control; endodontics; and, composites.

While the event traditionally caters for HSE dentists, it is by no means exclusive to the public sector. GPs, specialists and all dental professionals are welcome and all are invited to attend.

Finally, our Seminar social evening takes place on Thursday evening. This year we are moving to a nearby restaurant for our annual dinner. We look forward to a casual, sociable evening with all delegates welcome.

I look forward to seeing you all in Athlone in October.

Michaela Dalton

SEMINAR SPEAKERS

Prof. Avijit Banerjee

Avijit qualified in dentistry from Guy's Hospital (London) in 1993. After obtaining his FDSRCS (Eng), he received his Masters in Mineralised Tissue Biology, and Doctorate in Cariology. He is currently Chair in Cariology & Operative Dentistry, as well as Director of Integrated Clinical Care & Conservative Dentistry, at the King's College London Dental Institute at Guy's Hospital.

Dr PJ Byrne

PJ graduated in 1982 from UCC, receiving the undergraduate prize in periodontology. He is in referral practice in Dublin in periodontology, oral surgery and implant dentistry, and has lectured in periodontology at the Dublin Dental University Hospital, Trinity College, since 1991. He is a Past Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry RCSI (2007-2011) and is currently President of the Irish Dental Association.

Dr Mary Freda Howley

Mary Freda graduated from Trinity College Dublin in 1993 and received her FFD in 1998 from RCSI. From 1999 to 2002 she completed postgraduate studies in endodontics at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) and completed an MSc in Oral Science. Mary Freda now works in private practice limited to endodontics in Dublin and is an endodontist in the trauma clinic in Dublin Dental University Hospital.

Dr Justin Moloney

Justin qualified in 1988 and worked for 18 years as a general dentist. He then spent two years as an SHO in oral and maxillofacial surgery in Sheffield and Dublin, followed by three years as an oral surgery specialist registrar leading to the DChDent (Oral Surgery). He is on the oral surgery specialist register and has also obtained an FFD (OS) from the RCSI. He is in oral surgery private practice in Dublin and Waterford, and is a part-time member of staff in the Dublin Dental University Hospital.

Dr Anne O'Connell

Anne graduated from Dublin and worked in the UK and USA until 2000 when she was appointed as Associate Professor/Consultant in the Dublin Dental School. Anne since established the postgraduate training programme in paediatric dentistry and initiated the trauma clinic within the Dublin Dental University Hospital. She also maintains a private practice limited to paediatric dentistry in Sandycove, Co. Dublin.

Dr Siobhan O'Sullivan

Siobhán has been a part-time lecturer in medical ethics at RCSI since 2006. She was the Chief Bioethics Officer at the Department of Health from 2010 until September 2016, responsible for drafting policy advice and legislative instruments on bioethics-related issues. From 2002-2010, Siobhán was Director of the Irish Council for Bioethics. She holds a Masters in Healthcare Ethics in Law and a Diploma in Leadership.

Dr Jane Renehan

Jane is a Principal Dental Surgeon with the HSE in Dublin North City. Following qualification from the Dublin Dental Hospital in 1980, she worked mostly in the public dental sector, both in urban and rural settings. In the mid 1990s she returned to the Dublin Dental Hospital for five years, taking up the post of Lecturer in Dental Public Health while studying for a Masters in Dental Science (1997) and a Masters in Business Administration at the Smurfit Business School, UCD (1998).

Dr Ciara Scott

Ciara completed her specialist training in the DDUH in 2005. She is a part-time clinical supervisor for undergraduates at the DDUH and is a Fellow of RCSI. This year, she completed an MSc at the RCSI Institute of Leadership and developed a clinical protocol for the timing of treatment for children with prominent front teeth. In June 2016, Ciara became the first Irish-trained orthodontist to pass the membership examination for the European Board of Orthodontics.

WORKSHOPS

Dr Nick Armstrong

Nick is a former HSE dental surgeon in Dublin, and a current IDA Patient Safety Committee member. He graduated from Trinity College Dublin in 1974 and worked in private practice in the UK for 16 years.

Dr Andrew Bolas

Andrew received his BDA from Queen's University in 1991, his FFDRCSI in oral surgery in 1994, his FDSRCSI oral surgery and oral medicine in 1995, and an MSc in dental radiology in 2000. He moved to Sligo in 1997 and is employed with the HSE. He is a past President of the IDA.

Ms Siobhan Carrigan

Siobhan is a senior dental nurse working since 1998 with the Health Service Executive in the Dublin North City area. Following qualification from the Dublin Dental Hospital, Siobhan has mainly worked in the public dental sector. In 2009, she completed her MBS in Safety and Health at Work. Her thesis was on infection control in a dental surgery.

Dr John Dermody

John graduated from UCC in 1987 and worked as an SHO in the Dublin Dental Hospital until 2013. He has a Speciality Certificate in Endodontics and an MS from the University of Maryland. He runs a practice limited to endodontics in Dublin.

Dr Michael O'Sullivan

Michael was appointed as a Senior Lecturer/Consultant in Restorative Dentistry (Special Dental Needs) in 2001 at the Dublin Dental University Hospital. He is currently the Director of Teaching and Learning (Postgraduate) and Director of the Graduate Prosthodontics (DChDent) Programme at the Hospital. His research interests include developmental dental anomalies and qualitative evaluation of prosthodontic options and management.
