

WELCOME

As President of the Kerry Branch, I am delighted to invite you to 'Kerry Voices', our Annual Scientific Meeting for 2016. The venue for this year's meeting, which takes place on Friday, October 7, is the wonderful Hotel Europe in Killarney, and we are proud to offer an excellent line-up of speakers on a range of topics.

Dr Traelach Tuohy will cover comprehensive periodontal treatment, and Dr Cormac Cullinane's presentation will focus on endodontics. Crowns and bridges will be the focus of Dr Shane Mullane's lecture, while Dr Eamonn Murphy will look at the topic of occlusal splints.

Our social programme has something for everyone this year. We hope you will join us for dinner in Hotel Europe on Friday night, and on Saturday morning you can choose to blow the cobwebs away with either a round of golf in Beaufort Golf Club or a hill-walking trip in Toomies Wood.

I look forward to seeing you all in Killarney.

Dr Peter Moran
President, Kerry Branch

SPEAKERS

Dr Traelach Tuohy

Traelach has a practice limited to periodontics and implant dentistry. He graduated with a Bachelor of Dental Surgery from Cardiff University in 2001. Following graduation, he practised general dentistry for four years in Carrick-on-Suir. In 2008, he completed a three-year programme in graduate periodontics at the University of Washington in Seattle. He is a member of the American Academy of Periodontology, the Academy of Osseointegration, the European Academy of Osseointegration, the International Team for Implantology and the Irish Dental Association.

Dr Cormac Cullinane

Cormac graduated from UCC in 1995, following which he worked in general practice for a number of years. In 2009, he was awarded an MSc in endodontics, with distinction, from the Eastman Dental Institute, London, and was the recipient of the Dentsply Maillefer Endodontology graduate prize. He maintains a practice limited to endodontics and is a visiting lecturer and examiner, and a member of the Programme Committee for the Postgraduate Diploma in Endodontic Practice, at the Eastman Dental Institute.

Dr Shane Mullane

Shane graduated from University College Cork in 2006. He moved to the UK and completed his membership exams to the Royal College of Surgeons (London) and a Diploma in Conscious Sedation in Newcastle University. He spent a year as a senior house officer in the maxillofacial unit of Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital. On returning to Ireland, he worked in his father's practice for two years before accepting a prosthodontic residency in the University of Texas Health Science Centre, San Antonio. He completed his masters programme in 2014 and then spent one-and-a-half years doing a fellowship in the Periodontal Department in Trinity College Dublin.

Dr Eamonn Murphy

Eamonn graduated from UCC in 1995. He travelled to UCLA in 1998 to complete a Fellowship in orofacial pain. He subsequently returned to complete a Residency programme in orofacial pain and temporomandibular dysfunction. He completed a Master of Science in oral biology in 2001 and became certified by the American Board of Orofacial Pain in 2002. He practices in Cork in a multidisciplinary setting with a pain psychologist.
