

WELCOME

As President of the Kerry Branch of the IDA, it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to Kerry Voices 7, our annual scientific meeting in the picturesque Europe Hotel & Resort.

We are very fortunate this year to welcome some of the industry's leading speakers covering many aspects of modern-day dentistry, and culminating in a short presentation from James Costello, one of the Kerry selectors from this year's All Ireland-winning team.

Once again, we are kindly supported by our many trade show partners, and I would urge all attending to visit their stands throughout the day where many special offers will be available.

This year, there is also an optional social day planned on the Saturday for those of you who wish to avail of the beauty of Killarney.

On behalf of the organising committee and the IDA, I sincerely hope you enjoy the conference as well as the wonderful social calendar lined up for the weekend.

SPEAKERS MORNING

Dr Shane Mullane

Shane graduated from University College Cork in 2006. He spent three years in the UK during which he worked in general practice, and in the maxillofacial unit of Royal Devon and Exeter Hospital. On returning to Ireland he worked in his father's practice for two years before accepting a prosthodontic residency in the University of Texas Health Science Centre, San Antonio. He completed his master's programme in 2014 and then completed a fellowship in the Periodontal Department in Trinity College Dublin. He now works in his father's practice in Newcastle West and in Limerick, limiting his work to prosthodontic and implant dentistry.

Dr Claire O'Connor BDS NUI MFD RCSI

Claire graduated from University College Cork in 2006. In 2010, she completed the MFD exams at the RCSI. She runs a private practice in Bantry, Co. Cork, with a focus on minimally invasive, biomimetic restorative dentistry. She has pursued extensive training to enhance her expertise, including Biomimetic Mastership with The Allema Centre in the US, the Mimétika Biomimetic Programme in Switzerland, and mentorship from many of the world's leading clinicians and researchers. In 2023, Claire became the Irish representative for the Bio-Emulation group.

Daniel Bohan CFP

Daniel has been a financial advisor and planner for 15 years, guiding his clients on a multitude of financial issues and concepts tailored to their individual circumstances. Daniel holds the prestigious CFP® designation, having completed the internationally recognised Certified Financial Planner™ programme at University College Dublin's School of Finance. He is also a qualified financial advisor, specialist investment advisor, retirement planning advisor, and holds a Diploma in Wealth Management from University College Dublin and an MSc in Risk Management & Insurance from the University of Limerick.

SPEAKERS AFTERNOON

Dr Laura O'Sullivan BDS NUI MFDS PGC KCL

Laura qualified from University College Cork in 2011. She moved to London after graduation where she worked for a number of years, undertaking many courses and fuelling her passion for minimally invasive concepts in restorative dentistry, including a three-year postgraduate training programme in aesthetic restorative dentistry at King's College London. After a short stint in Dublin, Laura moved back to her native Kerry where she now works in Tralee providing Invisalign and has a special interest in smile design through alignment, bleaching and bonding.

Dr Richard Flynn

Richard graduated from Trinity College Dublin with a degree in Dental Science in 2011. Prior to this, he studied Electronic Engineering at Trinity College, graduating in 2003. Upon completing his dental degree he worked in private practice in Scotland before returning to Ireland in 2014. He enrolled in a master's programme in endodontics at King's College London in 2019. Upon completion, Richard and his family relocated to Kerry, opening a practice limited to endodontics in Killarney. Richard is a member of the Irish Dental Association, the European Society of Endodontology and a committee member of the Irish Endodontic Society.

James Costello

James is a current coach and selector with the Kerry senior football team, winners of the National Football League Division 1, Munster Championship and All Ireland Championship in 2025. He was previously involved as coach with Clare senior footballers and served as Kerry minor football manager from 2019 to 2022. He has facilitated numerous coach education programmes and is passionate about helping the younger generation achieve their potential. He is the owner of Irish Green Guys, a Kerry-based company growing and exporting over 200 acres of cut foliage to markets in the UK, the Netherlands, Sweden and Germany.
